

Objective: Understand the relationship between differentiability and continuity.

What is the relationship between differentiability and continuity?

ANSWER:

If a function is differentiable, then it is continuous. (If a function is continuous, it is not necessarily differentiable.)